

Order up!

Print out Bible Book Cards and cut them apart. Distribute the cards indicated in the lesson to students. Invite one of those students to come to the front of the room. Volunteer shows his or her card. Students holding names of books that come before and/or after the volunteer's book stand next to volunteer in the appropriate order. Continue having students line up in this manner until all the books are in order. Repeat by inviting students to switch cards and get in line faster each round.
